DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 16 is objected to because of the following informalities: Presently filed claim 16 omits limitations previously presented in amendment filed 5 August 2003 without indicating amended status, furthermore presently presented claim 16 ends in a colon. For the purpose of examination claim 16 as presented in the amendment filed 5 August 2003 will be considered as the current version of the claim. Appropriate correction is required.

Response to Arguments

The examiner intended to acknowledge that the present application is a continuation of parent application, 09/769,716. The examiner instead unintentionally indicated the present application as a Request for Continued Examination (RCE), the examiner regrets any confusion this may have caused the applicant.

The examiner rejected the present application under double patenting using the amended claims as presented in the papers filed 5 August 2003, which are the same as the claims represented in applicant's most recent response. To make the examiner's interpretation of the rejection of applicant's presented claims under double patenting explicit, the rejection is presented in a two column side-by-side analysis.

Continuation application 10/634,576, claim 1.	Parent Application US 6,640,282, claim 2 (presented as the limitation of claim 2 bodily incorporated into claim 1)
A method of powering-up a memory cartridge in a computer system, comprising the acts of:	A method of powering-up a memory cartridge in a computer system, comprising the acts of:
(a) inserting the memory cartridge into the computer system while the computer system is operating,	(a) inserting the memory cartridge into the computer system while the computer system is operating,
	wherein inserting the memory cartridge comprises connecting one or more first insertion removal sense pins from memory cartridge, thereby causing the assertion of a power signal to a power controller;
(b) initializing the memory cartridge while the computer system is operating;	(b) initializing the memory cartridge while the computer system is operating;
(c) rebuilding the memory cartridge while the computer system is operating; and	(c) rebuilding the memory cartridge while the computer system is operating; and
(d) verifying the memory cartridge for validity while the computer system is operating.	(d) verifying the memory cartridge for validity while the computer system is operating.

Art Unit: 2188

Parent application claim 2 contains each and every limitation of claim 1 in the instant application and as such is anticipated by the parent application. Therefore claim 1 is rejected under nonstatutory double patenting.

Similarly the limitations presented in instant application's claims 3-5 are anticipated by the parent application's claims 3-5.

Claim 6 of the instant application is anticipated by claim 5 of the parent application.

Claims 7-10 of the instant application are anticipated by claims 6-9 of the parent application.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 16-38 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

In regards to claim 16, none of the prior art of record discloses a computer system comprising a host controller, a memory sub-system coupled to the host controller configured to run in a redundant and non-redundant mode of operation further comprised of a memory system board, plurality of memory cartridges, plurality of cartridge connectors configured to facilitate the insertion and removal of the memory cartridges while the system is powered-up, and a plurality of control logic devices configured to facilitate the transition of the memory system from a redundant mode of operation to a non-redundant mode of operation as well as the reverse operation in combination with the other specified claim limitations.

Claim 16 was rejected under 35 USC §103 as being unpatentable over Olarig et al. US Patent 6,098,132 in view of Santeler et al. US Patent 6,223,301 in the previous office action. The applicant has successfully established that both Olarig and Santeler are commonly assigned and under the provisions of 35 USC §103(c) cannot be applied in a §103 rejection. No other prior art of record anticipates applicant's limitations as presented in claim 16 or provides motivation for combination to render applicant's claimed invention as obvious. As such claim 16 is found allowable over the prior art of record.

Claims 17-38 are allowed as being dependent upon allowed claim 16.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
